

ABSTRACT

A device for determining the concentration of volatile constituents of motor oil is described.